Bishop's Message on the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Anglican High School, St. George's, Grenada

Sing to the Lord a new song, for he has done marvelous things. (Psalm 98:1)

I greet you on the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Anglican High School, St. George's, Grenada.

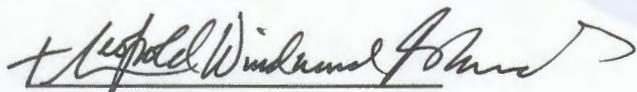

I invite you to join me in giving thanks to God for the vision of Archdeacon Walton who founded the Church of England High School (for girls), in September, 1916, as it was known then. His vision was to provide a secondary education for girls in Grenada, so that they may take their rightful place in caring and providing for their families and contributing positively to the governance and development of Grenada. On this 100th anniversary we are proud of the many achievements of the School over the years in academics, sports and other extra curricula activities. Archdeacon Walton's dream has been and continues to be fulfilled, beyond his wildest imagination.

During these hundred years the Anglican High School received support and contributions from the Government of Grenada, the Ministry of Education, members of the Governing Body, the Principals and members of Staff both academic and ancillary, the Parent Teachers Association, Parents, Students, Past Students, various institutions both commercial and private and well-wishers for which we are most grateful.

As you celebrate one hundred years, this is a good time to reflect on your achievements, successes and weaknesses for you now have a tradition to uphold and to pass on. There must have been some values, ideals, principles, positive and unique traits and characteristics which you have developed over the years, which have been etched in the character, attitude, and personality of those who have passed through your hallowed walls. These must not be left to fall by the way side, but documented for posterity. They ought to be passed on from generation to generation of students of the Anglican High School.

On behalf of the Diocese of the Windward Islands, I take this opportunity to congratulate the Principal, Ms. Madeline Baptiste, Staff and Students of the Anglican High School, St. George's Grenada, Archdeacon Christian Glasgow and other members of the Governing Body, Parents and Guardians on your one hundredth anniversary. May you continue the good work which you have started and may God's blessings be with you now and always, as you face and respond to the challenges of education in the twenty first century. Once again congratulations. Jubilate Deo!

Blessings and peace!

The Rt. Rev'd C. Leopold Friday
Bishop of the Windward Islands
